

This course replaces MS-20462 – Developing SQL Databases

Course Prerequisites

- Knowledge of writing T-SQL queries.
- Working knowledge of relational databases

Learn how to:

- Enforce Data Integrity
- Performance Monitoring
- Execute the XML data type within SQL Server
- Implement Domain Integrity
- Choose appropriate data types for indexes
- Design Table-Valued Functions
- Work with Natively Compiled Stored Procedures
- Execute Parameterized Stored Procedures
- Design and execute clustered and nonclustered indexes
- Design Effective Nonclustered Indexes
- Describe the importance of spatial data and the industry standards related to it
- Explain how to store spatial data in SQL Server
- Importing and configuring Assemblies

Give an edge to your career with Microsoft certification training courses.